00 04 Stefano Comini claimed the final pole of 2012 ahead of Bas Schothorst. And there was to be no repeat of Saturday's start as the Swiss champion led from the lights.

00 18 Comini and Schothorst found Nalio's pace to hot to handle after emerging from the pits, however, the Italian ducking past both of them on the same turn, though champion Comini responded quickly, regaining his lead just a few turns later.

01 03 With all the drivers having made their obligatory stop, it was Comini who led the field from Nalio and Schothorst, with Dermont and Forne completing the top five. Schothorst found way past Nalio with just a few minutes remaining only to run short of fuel, forcing him into the pits for a second time and handing Oregon Team another one-two to round the season off in style.
